VOLUME 72 ISSUE 8

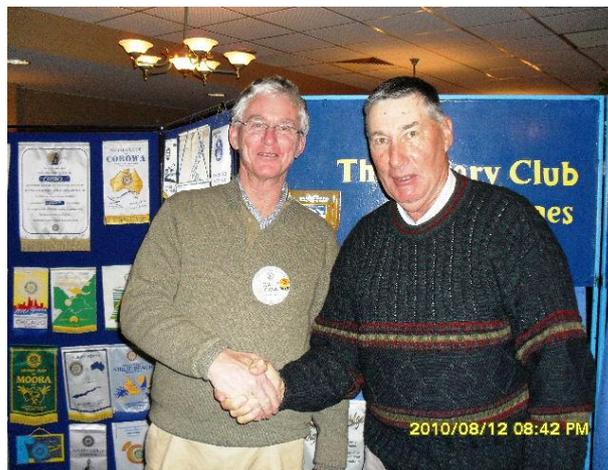

WEEKLY BULLETIN

PRESIDENT: DAVID POTTS

LAST MEETING

Wandering Wal complete with stop, start, freeze, run again movies described his recent 'bus owners' junket to China. First stop after clearing the airport was a massage parlour where the 'bussies' bared all for the 'works'. We have to take Wal's word for this as the video broke down at this stage. With video rolling again we saw some of the sights and some of the massive development taking place in China. A bus factory, which in 1 week, can turn out as many busses as we do in a year. A train trip of 1000km which took 5 hours including 4 stops. A ride on a maglev train that hit 431 kph which is a heck of a lot faster than Wal's Cobra. Somebody was heard to comment that this was about 400 clicks faster than a Wally Bus on a good day.

Fines

Started of on a high but soon degenerated to the usual lies, innuendo and clap trap. Keep up the good work – the schools need the cash.

Raffles.

1. Graham B.
2. The Apps lad who drew the King of Diamonds.

Two boys were playing football in a Melbourne park, when one was attacked by a Pit Bull. Thinking quickly, the other boy ripped a paling from a nearby fence, wedged it down the dog's collar and twisted, breaking the dog's neck. A reporter who saw the incident, rushed over to interview the boy.

"Blues fan saves friend from vicious animal", he started writing in his notebook. "But I'm not a Blues fan," the boy said. "Tigers fan rescues friend from horrific attack," the reporter starts again. "I'm not a Tigers fan either," the boy says.

"Then what are you?" the reporter asked. "I'm a Collingwood fan !!!" The reporter started a new sheet in his notebook and wrote, "Young lout kills family pet".
