

ROTARY CLUB OF COROWA

VOLUME 72 ISSUE 30

WEEKLY BULLETIN

PRINTED 31/1/2011

PRESIDENT: DAVID POTTS

LAST MEETING - The Carrington Family Holiday. Ian & Trish complete with slide show gave an account of their recent trip to northern Thailand . . .(the golden triangle)

The family: Ian – took photos, paid the bills and was a patient, Trish – a tiger loving nurse, Lauren – the Doc, Sarah – tour guide and head organiser and her partner – who was thought to be a ‘would-be’ monk.

The group had a most enjoyable time hanging out at bars, pools, street markets, eating fine Thai cuisine and messing about with tigers. Early in the trip Ian suffered back trouble, and after visiting the local hospital, was easily able to obtain a decent quantity of poppy juice to relieve the pain. Rumour has it that he’s planning another trip.

A man is stopped by the police at midnight and asked where he's going.

"I'm on the way to listen to a lecture about the effects of alcohol and drug abuse on the human body."

The policeman asks, "Really? And who's going to give a lecture at this time of night?"

"My wife", he replied.

Three contractors are bidding to fix a broken fence at No. 10 Downing Street

One is an English worker , another is a Scottish worker , and the third is an Indian worker .

All three go with a No.10 official to examine the fence.

The English contractor takes out a tape measure and does some measuring, then works some figures with a pencil. "Well," he says, "I figure the job will run to about £500:- £200 for materials, £200 for my crew and £100 profit for me."

The Scottish contractor also does some measuring and figuring, then says, "I can do this job for £600: £250 for materials, £250 for my crew and £100 profit for me."

The Indian contractor doesn't measure or figure, but leans over to the No. 10 official and whispers, "£1500."

The official, incredulous, says, "You didn't even measure like the other guys! How did you come up with such a high figure?"

The Indian contractor whispers back, "£500 for me, £500 for you, and we hire the English contractor to fix the fence."

"Done!" replies the government official.

And that, my friends, is how the stimulus plan works.

A blonde teenager, wanting to earn some extra money for the summer, decided to hire herself out as a "handy-woman" and started canvassing a nearby well-to-do neighbourhood. She went to the front door of the first mansion, and asked the owner if he had any odd jobs for her to do.

"Well, I guess I could use somebody to paint my porch," he said, "How much will you charge me?"

Delighted, the girl quickly responded, "How about $50?"

The man agreed and told her that the paint brushes and everything she would need was in the garage.

The man's wife, hearing the conversation said to her husband, "Does she realize that our porch goes ALL the way around the house?"

He responded, "That's a bit cynical, isn't it?"

The wife replied, "You're right. I guess I'm starting to believe all those dumb blonde jokes we've been getting by email lately."

Later that day, the blonde came to the door to collect her money.

"You're finished already?" the startled husband asked.

"Yes, the blonde replied, and I even had paint left over, so I gave it two coats."

Impressed, the man reached into his pocket for the $50.00 and handed it to her along with a $10.00 tip.

"And by the way, "the blonde added, "it's not a Porch, it's a Lexus."
