

The ROTARY CLUB of COROWA

13/11/2019: Issue 81. Number 18

Service Above Self

80 Years of Service

COMBINED WITH RUTHERGLEN At Airworld Wangaratta

17 members from our Club attended this very interesting oration.

Owner Doug Hamilton gave us a detailed description of the various aircraft on display in the hangar enlightening us on how each aircraft operated.

We then moved on to the Restoration Area and viewed aircraft being meticulously reinstated with many of the parts having to be made. This includes making of tools and moulds etc.

Planes are also being replicated and built from the ground up to being in the air. This takes approximately 10,000 man hours to construct.

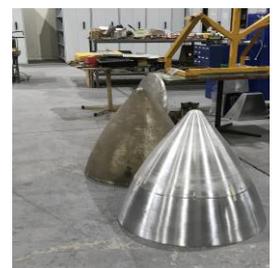

The staff of 16 are all Australian except for 1 New Zealander.

Kitty Hawk production is a big part of their work. Their aim is to produce items in numbers to cut costs and being able to supply to the world.

Paul then gave us a Tour of the tool area which was very remarkable and to see the technology in use.

Thanks to Gordon and Wally for organising this very thought-provoking experience.

The evening concluded with an enjoyable meal at The Tavern in Wangaratta.

ROUND LIKE A SHOT

Going to bed the other night, I noticed people in my shed stealing things.

I phoned the police but was told no one was in the area to help. They said they would send someone over as soon as possible

I hung up. A minute later I rang again.

“Hello,” I said. “I called a minute ago because there people in my shed. You don’t have to hurry now, because I shot them.”

Within minutes there were half a dozen police cars in the area, plus helicopters and an armed response unit. They caught the burglar’s red handed.

One of the officers said, “I thought you said you’d shot them.”

To which I replied: “I thought you said there was no one available.”

THE IMPORTANT STUFF

A British man is visiting Australia. The customs agent asks him, "Do you have a criminal record?" The British man replies, "I didn't think you needed one to get into Australia anymore."

IN THE FIFTIES and SIXTIES:

Pasta was not eaten in Australia or N.Z.

Curry was a surname.

A takeaway was a mathematical problem.

A pizza was something to do with a leaning tower.

All potato crisps were plain; the only choice we had was whether to put the salt on or not.

Rice was only eaten as a milk pudding.

Calamari was called squid and we used it as fish bait.

A Big Mac was what we wore when it was raining.

Brown bread was something only poor people ate.

Oil was for lubricating, fat was for cooking.

Tea was made in a teapot using tea leaves and never green.

Sugar enjoyed a good press in those days and was regarded as being white gold. Cubed sugar was regarded as posh.

Fish didn't have fingers in those days.

Eating raw fish was called poverty, not sushi.

None of us had ever heard of yoghurt.

Healthy food consisted of anything edible.

People who didn't peel potatoes were regarded as lazy.

Indian restaurants were only found in India.

Cooking outside was called camping.

Seaweed was not a recognized food.

"Kebab" was not even a word, never mind a food.

Prunes were medicinal.

Surprisingly, muesli was readily available, it was called cattle feed.

Water came out of the tap.

If someone had suggested bottling it and charging more than petrol for it, they would have become a laughing stock!!

But the one thing that we never ever had on our table in the sixties "Elbows or Phones".
