Rotary Information- supplied by Neil

A snippet from an article from
The Rotarian April addition 1935

“It’s not lofty moralizing- but rather the example of idealism in business and in citizenship from men and women they know.”

What Questing Youth Wants by Walter D Head
(3rd Vice president of Rotary International)

Those of the older generation who are in touch with the youth of today detect in them a spirit of unrest an revolt which gives cause for real concern. The spirit of radicalism, for example, existing today among you among university students of all lands is far more widespread than in general realised. A good deal of this is simply an outward evidence of the rest-less eagerness and iconoclasm which has always characterised youth, but there is today an ominous quality in youth pessimism which cannot be ignored.

Today, youth needs, more than ever before, the wise companionship and the tolerant, sympathetic council of adults. It needs the example of social minded leaders in the affairs of city, state, and nation men and women who are not too proud or too engrossed in their own affairs to take part in the constructive politics, and his actions are guided by a genuine sense of social responsibility. Such ladies youth will follow, but they must prove themselves naturally upright in in Word and deed unafraid to boycott and, if necessary, to put behind the bars those who are dishonest and dishonourable, no matter how prominent they may be. They must prove themselves great not only in words but in deeds, and in power to set an example of personal sacrifice, which is always the mark of true leadership.

Deb's bright side of life

Finland has just closed their borders.

No one will be crossing the finish line.

DUE TO THE QUARANTINE, I'LL ONLY BE TELLING INSIDE JOKES.

So many coronavirus jokes out there, it's a pundemic.

Now is not the right time to surround yourself with positive people.
